He wore a long duster, carried a grip sack in his left hand and a faded girgham umbrella in his right, and walked right into the cavalry recruiting office on Pine street yesterday morning as if he had come on particular business and couldn't fool away any time. Placing his traps on the floor he removed his hat, and, addressing the sergeant, said

"Is the army full?" "Well, not all of it, the part that has been paid is probably pretty full by this time,' replied the sergeant, winking his wunks as rapidly as he uttered his words But the joke was thrown away on the would be warrior. He said he wanted to "jine the army" He had heard a great deal how young men of good moral character had climbed up the ladder of fame, step by step, until they got to be colonels or corporals, and he thought that if he had a chance he might do very well. He was tired work ing on a farm, and pined for excitement He wanted to know if he couldn't enlist right off for some position as an officer He could furnish good recommendations, etc He wanted to put his name right down for an office in a moral company, commanded by a moral captain, and a moral regiment, and asked the sergeant to do him the favor to name such a company and regiment, where they did not use tobacco or drink, and were ac-

In this issue we publish entire Gen. Garfield's letter of acceptance, which will be perused with interest by the public generally. It is an out spoken, manly production, and a full and complete endorsement of the Republican platform as promulgated at the national convention at Chicago.

E. D. MANSFIELD, the ablest hand at figures in Ohio, writes the Cincinnati Gazette after this fashion.

I think that the republicans will have a clear majority of the next house of representatives, and the senate will be a tie. One hundred and eighty-five electoral votes-which Hayes had-is a majority. Garfield's minimum vote, I think, will be 187, and his maximum, 247, and his probable vote, I think, will be 222. I give no details but put this on record. I know that the greenbackers claim a great vote: but I don't know that this vote will have a material effect on the election. They claim to have the power to elect part of both tickets in two or three states, but I they are entirely mistaker

THE letter of Judge Orton, the well-known lawyer of Wisconsin, giving his reasons for withdrawing from ing his reasons for withdrawing from post has occasioned a lively watening the Democratic party and supporting of Chiage in Chiago. It has been the nomination of Gen. Ganfield, it discovered by the capitalists the have printed full in the Darlington Republic sold largely of the product of future can. It is a calm and dispassionate deliveries that Messrs. "I am fully aware," he Chicago product for months to come, as says, "of the severe censure which is well. It is having things pretty much almost universally visited upon those who for any cause forsake old political associations. Bad motives are general ly assigned for the change. 1 cannot expect exemption from such censure, though fully conscious that I am gov erned only by a sense of duty which it would be positively wrong in me to disregard." The writer continues:

Whatever the Democratic party may and absolutely the party of the South the Armours intend to put on the to day. Of the 185 Electoral votes screws, and gobble everything in sight required to elect a President this fall, of the States which secoded or wanted to secede and dare not,—solid in ad- & Co. are also supposed to control the vance for its candidate. Thirty-five of them they confidently in the "corner." - Times. expect from the City of New York, for the State of New York outside the city is as strongly Republican as Wisconsin The record of the Democratic party in Congress for the last four years has justly excited the suspicions of Northern men. * * This practical question then presents itself to every honest voter of the North: Is it wise or just, and ought the American people, to place the Republic in the control of the party of the South?

Will the National credit be safe in its hands " Will the principle that the Republic is a Nation be honestly respected and acquiesced in by a people who individually believe that it is a lie, established by might and not right? Is the right of all classes at the South respected, so their elections can be considered a fair and intelligent expression of public sentiment, or are such results simply dictated by a class desperate for political power? Will the North be rented or leased by them or received and owned, true to the noble history it has made now to pass the Government over to the control of the very men who fought to destroy it? Will this be just to the memory of those slain in its defense? Can the politicians of the easy-going South appreciate the needs of the great, energetic, progressive North; and will they be disposed to regard them? The Darlington Republican says of he author of this letter: The high position which Judge Orton occupies at the Bar as one of the ablest lawyers in the State, and the confidence which he enjoys as a conscientious and upright citizen, will give weight to this expression of his conviction of duty.

Tue Advance is well known for its eaution in avoiding any controverted subjects, especially political! We are aware that people want their politics "straight"—not mixed with either religion or morals. But the following from the New York Tribune is so well boiled down that we venture to present is as a dose more easy to take for its small dimensions: "A newspaper, moralizing upon the present canvass, judiciously The issue is not between observes . Garfield and Hancock. It is between Republicanism and Democracy.' This s about the wisest remark which we have seen upon the subject. This, after all, is not a contest between man and man. General Hancock's Emoluments.

General Hancock has been a full major general for fourteen years. The pay of the office is, for the first five years, $7,500; for the next five it is $8,250 -an increase of ten per cent. on the original pay. This ten per cent. is added each succeeding five years, so that now General Hancock's annual pay, besides commutation for forage, etc., Eis $9,000. Next July another five years will be completed, and his pay will be raised to $9,750, and unless don't you forget it, either.

In the discussion which will take place during the present campaign, Republicans must not forget that the Democraty forced the extra session in 1878, in order to repeal the election laws, and that when this attempt ignominiously failed, and they met in Congress again, their caucus passed a "padlock resolution binding the members not to engage in political discussion. This resolution was adhered to as rigidly as possible, as the party knew better than to repeat the blunder of a year ago. It hopes that the lapse of time will efface the remembrance, but Republicans all know that the wolf's body is still hidden under the sheep's cloth ing of Bourbon Democracy.-Blooming ton Pantagraph.

MENTOR, Ohio, July 12 .- General Carfield has forwarded to Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, the following letter of acceptance of the republican naional convention:

MENTOR, Ohio, July 10, 1880-Dear Ser On the evening of the 7th of June last, I had the honor to receive from you in the presence of the convention, of which you were chairman, an official announcement that the Republican National Convention had that lay at Chicago nominated me as their candidate for President of the United States. I accept the nomination with gratitude for the confidence it implies, and with a deep sense of the responsibilities it imposes. I cordially endorse the principles set forth in the platform adopted by the convention. On nearly all the subjects of which it treats my opinions are on record among the published proceeding of congress. I venture, however, to make special mention of some of the principal topics which are likely to become subjects of discussion. Without reviving the controversies which have been settled during the last twenty years, and with no purpose or wish to revive the passions of the late war, it may be said that while the republicans fully recognize and will strenuously defend all the rights retained by the people, and all the rights reserved by the states, they reject the pernicious doctrine of state supremacy, which so long crippled the functions of the national government, and at one time brought the Union very near to destruction; they insist that chosen from the same holy estate. The the United States is a nation, with amvice president has no social duties at | ple powers of self-preservation: that its constitution, and the laws made in pursumed it is a volunteer thing. After suance thereof are the supreme law of Mr. Colfax married, he and his wife the land, that the right of the nation to determine the method by which its legislature shall be created cannot be dent Wilson lived in a secluded, cheap surrendered, without abdicating one of way at the Washington house, an int the fundamental powers of the government; that the national laws relating to ident Wheeler lives very quietly at the Riggs house, when in Washington, ab-shall neither be violated nor evaded; that every elector shall be permitted freely, and without intimidation, to cast his lawful vote at such election, and the spirit of brotherhood cannot fully pervade the whole country, until every citizen, rich or poor, white or black, is secure in the free and equal until every voter can freely and safely support any party he pleases.

EDUCATION. Next in importance to freedom and justice is popular education, without which neither justice nor freedom can be permanently maintained. Its interests are intrusted to the States and to whatever help the nation can justly afford should be generously given to aid the States in supporting common schools, but it would be unjust to our people, and dangerous its our institutions to apply dangerous to our institutions to apply any portion of the resources of the nation, or of the States, to the support of sectarian schools. The separation of the church and state relating to taxation.

should be absolute. THE FINANCES. On the subject of national finances, my views have been so frequently and fully expressed that little is needed in the way of additional statements. The public debt is now so well secured, and the rate of annual interest has been so the rate of annual interest has been so reduced by refunding, that rigid economy in expenditures and the faithful application of our surplus revenues to the payment of the principal of the debt will gradually but certainly free the people from its burdens, and close with honor the financial chapter of the war. At the same time the government can provide for all its ordinary expenditure, and discharge its sa. government can provide for an an order nary expenditure, and discharge its sa-cred obligations to the soldiers of the Union and to the widows and orphans of those who tell in its defense.

The resumption of specie payment, which the Republican party so courage-ously and successfully accomplished has removed from the field of controversy many questions that long and seriously disturbed the credit of the government and the business of the country. Our paper currency is now as national as the flag, and resumption has not only made it everywhere equal to coin, but has brought into use our store of gold and silver. The circulating medium is more abundant than ever before, and we need only to maintain the equality of all our dollars to insure to labor and capital a measure of value from the use of which no one can suffer loss

The great prosperity which the country is now enjoying should not be endanger ed by any violent changes or doubtful financial experiments.

OUR CUSTOMS

In reference to our custom laws, a policy should be pursued which with bring revenue to the treasury, and will enable the labor and capital employed in our the labor and capital employed in our great industries to compete fairly in our own markets with the labor and capital or foreign products. We legislate for the people of the United States, not for the whole world, and it is our glory that the American laborer is more intelligent and better paid than his foreign competitor. Our country cannot be in-dependent unless its people, with their abundant natural resources, possess the requisite skill to dothe, aim and equip themselves for war, and in time of peace to produce the necessary implements of labor. It was the manifest intention of the founders of the government to provide for the common defense, not by standing armics alone, but by raising among the people a greater army of arti-zans, whose intelligence and skill should powerfully contribute to the safety and glory of the nation.

RIVERS AND HARBORS. Fortunately for the interests of commerce, there is no longer any formidable opposition to appropriations for the improvement of our harbors, and great navigable rivers, provided that the expenditures for that purpose are strictly limited. to works of national importance. The Mississippi river, with its great tributaries, is of such vital importance in so many millions of people that the safety of its navigation requires exceptional consideration. In order to secure to the nation the control of all its waters, President Jefferson negotiated the purchase of the territory extending from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific Ocean. The wisdom of congress should be invoked to devise some plan by which that great river shell cease to be a terror to those who dwell upon its banks, and by which its shipping may safely carry the industrial products of twenty five millions of people. The interests of agriculture, which is the basis of all our material prosperity, and in which seven and a half per cent of our people are engaged, as well as the interests of manufacturers and commerce, demand that he facilities of cheap transportation shall be increased by the greater use of our great water corrects. our great water courses.

IMMIGRATION. The material interests of this country, the traditions of its people, the sentiment of our people, have led the government to offer the widest hospitality to em-grants who seek our shores for new and grants who seek our shores for new and happier homes, willing to share the burdens as well as the benefits of our society, and intending that their posterity shall become an undistinguishable part of our population. The recent movement of the Chinese to our Pacific coasts partakes but little of the qualities of such an emigration, either in its purpose or its results. It is too much like an importation to be welcomed without restriction, it is emigration, either in its purpose or its results. It is too much like an importation to be welcomed without restriction, it is too much like an invasion to be looked upon without solicitude. We cannot consent to allow any form of servile labor to be introduced among us, under the guise of emigration. Recognizing the gravity of this subject, the present administration, supported by Congress, has sent to China, as commissioners, some of our distinguished citizens, for the purpose of securing such a modification of the existing treaty as will prevent the evils likely to arise from the present situation. It is confidently believed that these diplomatic negotiations will be successful, without the loss of commercial intercourse between the two powers, which promises a great increase of reciprocal trade and the enlargement of our markets. Should these efforts fall, it will be the duty of Congress to mitigate the evils already felt, nod prevent their increase by energies of our people should be directed unity of Congress to mitigate the evils al-ready felt, and prevent their increase by such restrictions as, without violence or injustice, will place upon a sure founda-tion the peace of our communities and the freedom and dignity of labor.

and laws. Wherever the enjoyment of those rights is not assured, discontent will prevail; immigration will cease and social and industrial forces will continue to be disturbed by the migration of laborers, and a consequent diminution of prosperity. The national government should exercise all its constitutional authority to put an end to these evils, for all the people and all the states are members of one body, and no member can suffer without injury to all. The most serious evils which now afflict the south arise from the fact that there is not such freedom and toleration of political opinion and action that the minority party can exercise an effective and wholesome restraint upon the party rule becomes tyrannical, and the high prosperity which is made possible in the south, by its great advantages of soul and climate, will never be realized until every voter can freely and safely sunport, any narty he therase. ENFOUTIVE APPOINTMENTS

The doctrines announced by thet hear oconvention are not the temporary devices of a party to atract votes and carry our election. They are the deliberate convictions resulting from a careful study of the spirit of the Constitution, the events of our history and the best impulses of our history and the best impulses should control the legislation and administration of the government. In any event, they will guide my conduct until experience points a better way. If elected, it will be my purpose to enforce a strict obedience to the constitution and the laws, and to promote, as best I may, the interest and honor of the whole country, relying for support upon the whole country, relying for support upon the wisdom of tengers, the intelligence and patriorism of the people, and the favor of God. With great respect, I am, very truly yours.

Love Essential to Woman.

Some years ago the late Empress of Russia, while inspecting a girls' school in that country, asked one of the pupils "What is Love?' Bluehing deeply, and much embarrassed, the girl made no re ply Her teacher stepped forward, and, bowing low to the Empress, informed her, that "in my school no instruction is imparted to the pupils on this particlar subject, and in all probability the girl does not even understand the means ing of the word your Majesty ha deigned to pronounce." "That is much to be regretted," replied the Empress, "for woman's life is naught but lovefirst of all, love for her parents, then love for her husband, and lastly, love for her children. If these girls have acquired no just comprehension of love, they have been very badly prepared for the duties of life" Having thus expressed herself, the Empress left the school in manifest displeasure, and a few days later the teacher was dismissed by the imperial ministry of education and public worship

The City Railway, Chicago, works 4,760 horses. Read what Supt.

We use exclusively Whittier's Liniment. It will pay all owners of horses to call or write, M. W. SQUIRES, Supt. C. C. R. Co.

The Express Company work 370 horses. Read what Supt. KNIGHT

Thave been using Liniment on the horses of the American and U.S. Express Co.'s stables for 24 years. I never met any that had onetenth the merit of Whittier's Liniment. Our stables are open; call and see for yourselves. H. KNIGHT, Supt. U. S. Ex. Co.

Read what Graves & Lomis, the largest breeders of horses in the State of Illinois, have to say For thirty years we have been using all kinds of liniment manufactured for horses, and, of all the liniments, Whittier's stands at the head of the list for Scratches, Greased Heel, Sprains, Galled Spots, and Sores of ang kind. It will give all horsemen satisfaction

Scratches, Greased Heel, Thrush, Galled Spots from any cause, heal up in from two to three applications, and you can work the horse every day, and you can cure him at the same time. It will take out all inflammation in a few moments
